

BUILDING A GREATER WASHINGTON REGION

ABOUT THE SIGNATURE PROGRAM

Since 1986, Leadership Greater Washington (LGW) has developed over 1,700 executive leaders from DC, Northern Virginia, and Suburban Maryland, through its flagship offering, the Signature Program – an intensive 10-month program that exposes professionals to regional civic issue education, connection, and knowledge sharing.

BENEFITS OF THE SIGNATURE PROGRAM

The Signature Program provides an opportunity for Greater Washington’s most influential change-makers and leaders to come together around community issues with a dynamic group of their peers, identify challenges in the region, drive dialogue and build the connections that facilitate solutions. Each year, approximately 60 leaders are competitively selected to represent the professional and individual diversity of the Greater Washington region as the LGW Signature Class. The Signature Program sheds light on a variety of regional challenges to reflect the current needs of Greater Washington. Signature Program participants hail from diverse professional sectors throughout the region including nonprofit, corporate, government, and small and large business owners.

Through the Signature Program, participants will:

- Gain access to LGW’s membership base of over 1,700 regional decision makers
- Build a network of diverse executive peers from all sectors and a variety of industries
- Leverage collective resources to make the Greater Washington region a more dynamic and collaborative community

“We are better and stronger when we think and act regionally. For that reason, an organization such as LGW, which routinely fosters relationships and collaborations among the region’s leadership, is vital. LGW has been a catalyst in helping to provide a framework for anyone interested in contributing to the augmentation of the region.”

Debbie Jarvis ('09) Vice President of Corporate Relations, Pepco

“I have yet to be part of anything in my life where it is not true that you get out of it what you put into it. So, when I had the opportunity to be a lifetime member of LGW, I jumped at it. I believe not just in the Leadership at LGW, but in the people I met in my class and the power of their potential to create needed change in this region.”

Mark Bergel ('16), Founder and Executive Director, A Wider Circle
