

Team Biographies

Bruce S. Tanous

Banker

Managing Director

Bruce S. Tanous is a Managing Director and Banker in the Washington, DC office of J.P. Morgan Private Bank. He works closely with some of the area's most influential families, corporate executives and not-for-profit organizations to deliver the resources of J.P. Morgan.

A native of Washington, Bruce plays an essential role in presenting the thought leadership, investment opportunities and intellectual capital available through the global capabilities of the firm. He brings a high-touch approach to provide personalized solutions that align with each client's needs. Bruce blends his seasoned expertise with an engaging style to build strong and trustworthy relationships. He draws from his deep connections in the local community to help individuals and businesses explore innovative strategies. With a career that has spanned 35 years, Bruce has significant experience in asset management and commercial and investment banking. He has been with J.P. Morgan for 15 years, serving both high-profile individuals and institutions. Previously, he founded and headed the Washington office of the New York investment firm Neuberger Berman.

Bruce holds an M.B.A. in Finance from the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania, an M.A. in International Economics from Johns Hopkins School for Advanced International Studies, and a B.A. in Economics from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. He has served on the teaching faculties of the University of Pennsylvania and George Washington University.

Bruce and his wife have four children and have raised them to understand that time and talent are valuable gifts to bestow upon their community. He has served on the boards of the Landon School and the Holton-Arms School, educational institutions that are personally meaningful to his family. Bruce has also been elected to the boards of the Congressional Country Club and The Metropolitan Club. He is currently on the investment committee of Sibley Memorial Hospital.

In addition to being a multi-instrumentalist, Bruce is passionate about vintage automobiles, and he organizes rallies for like-minded enthusiasts.

202.533.2121

bruce.s.tanous@jpmorgan.com